Coal Operators Are Divided On Fund Payments

Continuation Of Payments To Welfare Fund Brings Different Views

DAWSON IN LEGAL MOVE AGAINST LEWIS

By JOHN BOOTH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. - Coal operators are divided today over continuance of contributions to the United Mine Workers welfare fund, which one industry spokesman charged is being spent in "profligate" fashion.

The mine owners are scheduled to make their regular 20-cents-per-ton payment today on November production as required by their old 1948 contract with John L. Lewis' union.

Reports reaching Washington indicated that some will pay up as usual. Others apparently will await clarification, possibly in the courts, of the present confusion surrounding the fund and its af-

Starts Action Against Lewis Charles I. Dawson, Louisville, Ky., attorney, filed a petition in federal court Monday asking that Lewis be forced to acknowledge him as operator representative on the fund's three-man board of Lewis, as chairman of the board, has twice refused to recognize Dawson. Sen. Bridges (R) N.H., is the neutral member. Dawson declared:

"I am going to let the courts of the land determine... whether Lewis should be left free and uncontrolled in his haphazard and profligate spending of the fund.

"I want it to be distinctly understood that the complaint contains no allegaion of improper or illegal conduct on the part of Senator Bridges."

The 59-year-old mayor and his 33-year-old bride were pronounced man and wife at 8:40 a. m. (EST) in little St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Dawson said Bridges has recognized that he is the lawful successor to Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland, who resigned as operator trustee on Sept. 14.

The actual Celebrohy was performed by the Rev. Timothy J. Geary—Irish-born like O'Dwyer—and took just eight minutes.

Conflict Over U. S. Attitude On Spanish Regime

Diplomatic And Military Policies Not In Agreement On Franco

POLICY HAS NEVER BEEN OUTLINED

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 .- United policies conflict today on the future administration attitude toward the Spanish regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco. These are the two views

The State Department feels that nothing can be done to ex-tend economic aid to Franco until and unless his European neighbors are willing to accept him. France is regarded as the major holdout.

2. The military would like to gain some concessions from Franco or at least bind him to the western bloc, in case his country should become the last stronghold of the west on the European continent. Times have changed . . . it used to be opportunity knocks but. modern folk's tale goes like this. Opportunity doesn't knock , it rings the phone and asks a lot of silly questions.

From Me To You

Actually people will forgo seeing a movie . . listening to a Concert Guild Performance at the Cathedral . . . and even attending church... just to be near the phone in case it rings and someone says ... 50 bucks to you if you can tell the world who was George Washington? Crazy people ... something for nothing seems to be the theme ... but where does all this money that is given away via the phone and the federal government coming from? Who stops to figure that one out? Not the people who are daily standing there with both . so some inventor could really clean up if he would but devise an auxiliary hand that would clamp over the foot . . . then the gimme-boys could double the intake.

How long will the present trend last . . . experts are now working wouldn't be at all surprised if maybe the executive branch of the Federal Government haven't already set up an extended office for the express purpose of working out that problem . . How long will the money last Bureau . . . just as simple as knowing how to teil the sex of a watermelon . . . That happened.

Meeting Census Taker (By HENRY McLEMORE)

Instead of getting mad about the national census that is to be taken in 1950 the way the Republicans are, I am practicing for the

I want to make a big hit with the census-taker so I'll get a grand.

Some Republicans plans to have their dog bite the census-taker when he comes up the walk, give him a hot-foot when he starts asking questions, and let the air out of his tires when he is in the house. But not Jean and I.

We see the census-taker's arrival as the biggest chance to hit the front pages we will ever have—if we can take him in

So we are going to muzzle our dogs at his approach, ply him with lemonade and cookies if it is a hot day, hot lemonade and hot cookies if it happens to be a cold day, and while he is being given the best chair in the house Jean will run down with a hand pump and see that his tires are properly inflated.

Want Him To Believe It

Because we aim to lie to the man, and we want him to believe it—believe it so much that he will wire in his report on us, not write it, For example, when the census chap asks me about my income I am not going to tell him the truth and have him take off his shirt and give it to me; I am going to tell him that exclusive of radio and television. endorsements for long underwear and Turkish water pipes, and a fer hundred thousand picked up here and there at checkers and croquet, make only $2,000,000 a year.

I shall continue impressing the census-taker when he gets around to poking his nose into domestic affairs and asks who is the head of

"I am," I aim to say, though such an answer is such a big lie that Gutzom Borglum could carve the history of the world on half of it.

When he asks us what our chief interests are he is not going get the truth. I have no intention of telling him that shooting pool in dark and questionable pool halls, reading other people's mail, breaking locks on diaries, and passing counterfeit money fascinate me the most. Nor am I going to let him in on the fact that Jean spends her spare time-and with bright eagerness in her eyes-robbing bird's nests and shooting out lighthouse bulbs.

Chief Interests

We are going to tell him that our chief interests are painting pictures of Winston Churchill painting, digging for prehistoric blankets in the Navajo desert, repairing the wings of clay pigeons, and similar

When asked about music we are going to say that it is a shame Sibelius is so old and unable to create any more good tunes for our morning setting-up exercises.

As for food, are we going to admit that we like canned baked beans and hot dogs? Heavens, no. The census-taker will leave our house thinking that we have crepes suzettes instead of pancakes for breakfast, and that truffles and hearts of artichokes are as common

Death Rate For Tuberculosis Is Lower This Year

Present Rate Is Only About One-Half That Of Twelve Years Ago

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 20 .-The tuberculosis death rate in the United States for 1949 is setting an all-time low record show-ing a reduction of about 10 percent from the figure of the year before. The present rate in the population is only about one-half that of 12 years ago, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

"The gains against tuberculosis have been accelerated during the postwar years," the statisticians note. "And should the recent trend continue, the disease before long will be relegated to a minor position among the causes of illness and death in our country.

At present, only one state Arizona has a tuberculosis death rate of over 60 per 100,000 population. In 1933, when nationwide figures first became available, 19 states and the District of Colum-bia had rates of 66 or higher.

Greater Interest-Support Intensified public interest and support, of which the Christmas seal campaign is part, is seen as an outstanding factor in accelerating the decline of the tuberculo-sis death rate. Since the end of the war case finding has been pushed in an ever widening area, and at present about 10,000,000 persons a year are receiving X-ray examinations. at the same time, efforts have been initiated to increase the facilities for the care and treatment of the tuberculosis. Governor Of Pennsylvania Still Resides In Common Looking Stone House

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—(INS) The wealthy state of Pennsylvania houses its chief executive, Governor Duff, in a common-looking brown stone house along the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg . . . Since the executive man-sion was built in 1863, twenty governors have occupied it The mansion was described as two houses turned into one and "the reception room looked like the saloon of an ocean steamer" by Gov. Samuel W. Pennypacker who lived in it in 1903-07. Meanwhile four architects' drawings, in color, of a proposed executive mansion for future governors hang on display near the lieutenant governor's office at the capitol... They have been there since the James administration, 1938-42, but no state official seems to know why... The plans were the brainchild of Governor James... The building is estimated to cost $750,000 in addition to $185,000 paid for a mansion site at Front and Maclay Gov. Samuel W. Pennypacker who lived in it in 1903-07 . . . Mean-

Navy Contradicts Report That Ship Will Be Ready Soon

Spokesman Says New Carrier Oriskany Will Not Be Finished This Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 .- (INS) The navy contradicts the new issue of "Jane's Fighting Ships." A navy spokesman said that "Jane's" was in error reporting that the new carrier Oriskany would be completed this weekend. It will not be finished until next year, he said.

The spokesman also denied that the U. S. has under construction a carrier designed to carry the atomic bomb. The 27,000-ton Essex class Oriskany and several other carriers now being reconditioned will have heavier flight decks than caption while But these than earlier ships. But these, the spokesman said, are designed only for "heavier, longer-range planes." The navy has demonstrated, however, that the P2V is believed capable of carrying an atomic Alfredo del Mazo, chief executive of the state, insists the re-forestation program would be hopelessly disturbed if the 100,000 trees cut last year for yuletide festivities are taken again this year.

He also makes the point that the Christmas tree is neither Mexican nor a Spanish custom but came to Mexico from Germany through the United States and therefore has no justification in

Wage Earners Lose Three Billion From Strikes In 12 Years

ed to reap banner bids in every ence board announced Monday that wage earners forfeited three billion dollars during the past 12

The board emphasized that the three billion dollars represented direct wages lost, and added that there was no way of calculating inbuilding stood in the way of the direct losses, such as the shutdown of a plant because of material shortages caused by a walkout elsewhere.

According to the board's analysis, the vast loss in wages was shared among 25,000,000 workers. Since 1937, the board reported, direct losses to strikes each year amounted to at least $25,000,000.

Even during 1943 and 1944, when patriotism, government intervention and public sympathy tended to reduce the number of strikes, wage losses accruing from strikes totaled more than $100,000,-000 and $70,000,000 respectively in the two years," the report stated.

Strikes in steel, machinery and other durable goods, the board said, accounted for most of the time and money lost.

Chinese Threaten To Mine Harbors

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 .- (INS) The Chinese Nationalist government today rejected an American protest against shelling of U. merchant ships and indicated it would sow mines to enforce its China blockade. The Chinese note was in reply to a U. S. demand that the Nationalist ships avoid firing on American merchant men going into Shanghai. The U. S. demand arose from the shelling of the Isbrandtsen Lines' Sir John Franklin.

The note was dated December 12 but only reached the State department Monday.
The Nationalist note said:

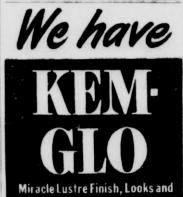

"Ever since the proclamation of the closure of the designated ports in territorial waters the Chinese government has time and again advised the various foreign gov ernments that foreign vessels shall assume their own responsibilities for any consequences in case of the violation of this order.
"With a view to tightening this

Christmas Numbers Are Sung At Annual Presentation At Luncheon Meeting

New Castle Rotary club was pleasantly entertained at their luncheon meeting in The Castleton Monday noon when the a cap-pella choir of Senior High school, gave their annual Christmas program before the club.

The choir, which is under the direction of Edward C. Book, new supervisor of vocal music, presented a splendid group of Christmas numbers, which was well re-ceived by the club members. Mr. Book has developed a fine choir in the short period of time that he has been here, taking over in September, and the manner in which the choir presented Monday's program revealed the splen-did training they have received under his direction.

Many of the members expressed the opinion that yesterday's program was one of the most outtanding that the choir has given down through the years.

Solo numbers on the program were taken by Miss Ruth Simon,

Traffic Violation Penalties Will Be Strictly Enforced

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 20.—(INS) Pittsburgh district motorists motorists who ignored traffic violation penalties during the last nine years tdoay were due for a reckoning. In conjunction with a city police drive to intensify parking law en-forcement, traffic magistrate John H. Donahue said four constables have been assigned to serve warrants on drivers who failed to pay for offenses.

It was a "put up or face prosecution plan" by which the city hopes to collect on an estimated 300,000 unpaid tags that have accumulated

Donahue said constables will be able to reach violators in any part of Allegheny county because under a change in the law, courts now can deputize any peace officer to serve the summons. Previously violators who lived outside Pitts burgh were safe.

And he warned the service of warrant coupled with mileage cost for the constable could result in a $3 to $4 boost on the $2 penalty. UNDERGOES OPERATION

Neshannock Civic League Discusses Leading Problems

Three Board Members Elected; Reports On Zoning And Bus Line Given

Members of the Neshannock Township Civic league met at the Walmo school Monday night to elect three new members of the board of directors and discuss township problems.

New members elected to the board of directors at the meeting were Marvin Dinsmore, Mrs. G. L. Henderson and Lewis Dayton. Mrs. Lyle Hughes, chairman of the zoning committee, gave a re-port of the study made by the committee. The proposed project is still in the beginning stages and no decisions were made.

Report On Bus Situation

Norman Clark gave a report on the proposed bus service for the community. He stated that the case is now in the hands of the Public Utilities commission in Harrisburg. A hearing was held on the case recently and it was referred to the utilities commission. Other problems discussed by the group included the necessity of street lights in some sections of the township and the need for city water in Highland Heights.

Discuss Situation

A committee composed of James A. Rugh, Norman Clark and W. J. Caldwell, was named to meet with J. L. Matthews, manager of the water company, and discuss the situation.

At the conclusion of the regular civic league meeting, a reorganizational meeting of the board of directors was held.

James A. Rugh was elected pres ident, succeeding Norman Clark. Lewis Dayton was elected vice president, Mrs. G. L. Henderson secretary, and Mrs. Richard Marquis treasurer.

Members of the board of directors and when their terms expire are: Norman Clark, Mrs. Richard Marquis and W. J. Caldwell, 1950; S. A. Mooney, Wilson Howe and James A. Rugh, 1951; Marvin Dinsmore, Mrs. G. L. Henderson and Lewic Devtor, 1952 quis treasurer.

More, Mrs. G. L. Henderson and Lewis Dayton, 1952.

Next meeting of the board of directors will be held on Monday, January 16. Next meeting of the league will be announced at a later

HOT AIR TO BE TAKEN FROM SENATE MECHANICALLY

REMODELING of the United States Senate chamber in Washington, D. C., is nearing completion. New ornamented plaster and stainless steel ceiling conceals indirect lighting equipment and, engineers say without the trace of a smile, an air conditioning mechanism to draw off hot air. A new acoustical material has been installed around the upper walls to soften heated debate. Added steel girders have been supporting the roof since a weakness was detected in 1941. WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The Census bureau will hang out a "help wanted" sign next month in its nation-wide search for 140,000 quick-minded supersalesmen to take the 1950 population census.

Bureau sights are set high for the type of door-bell ringing "enumerator" desired, but the pay is set low-about $8 a day for two weeks work.

However, federal census officials said they expect little trouble in filling the manpower call.

Around 50 per cent of the persons hired will be women, the rest other public spirited Americans who want to help the govern-ment find out exactly how larger The govern the population has grown.

In all cases, the enumerators will have to be special people with special qualifications and, above all, patience. This is the way one official put it:

"We won't have any trouble recruiting the people. But we are trying to obtain civic-minded per sons who are interested in this work, aggressive, have a good reputation and are quick-witted.

"This is a rush order job and patience, will be one asset vital to the success of the survey." Selecting Supervisors

In the next three weeks, the bureau hopes to complete selection of 450 district supervisors who clowill field command the operation. About 150 appointments remain to be made.

The district offices will open in January and job applications will be taken as the nation-wide machinery is set-up. Enumerators will start training March 27 in time to start the survey officially on April 1. One shadow has been cast on the operation so far.

Bureau officials said that as a result of the congressional row over plans to inquire into family finances, tabulation of the returns will be slowed-down somewhat.

Persons who object to turning income information over to enu-merators may fill out an optional of age.

New Examination Hopes To Prolong Life Of People

Jefferson Medical College Scientists Working On New Type Exam

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20. — (INS)—Dr. William Harvey Perkins, dean of preventive medicine at Jefferson Medical college, reported Monday that a new-type health examination have scientists "on the right track" toward prolonging life.

He said a full year's study of the new examination based on an individual's heredity, environment, occupation and other factors has been found "satisfactory. Dr. Perkins said it would be three years before "significant" results are realized, however.

The Jefferson specialist said the plan is designed to determine and prevent if possible the causes of future physical failures and breakdowns Dr. Perkins explained that researchers hope that the examinations eventually will "prevent disease and not limit their usefulness to correction.

Sex Parolees Rarely Violate Same Law Says Parole Board

Study Of State Parole Records Made By Board After Concelmi Death

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20 .- (INS) Sex offenders, paroled from Pennsylvania prisons, are rarely booked for parole violations for similar offenses, the State Parole board said Monday.

Less than one half of one per cent of all parole violators returned to prison are sex criminals, according to Maj. Henry Hill, board chairman Ten per cent of all parolees in the first 10 months this year were ex offenders, the records showed. Hill said nation - wide public interest aroused by sex crimes such as the murder of Jean Brusco at Pittsburgh spurred the board to study its records.

officers in the states, nine parole districts and to state police.

Used As Guide The registry includes all sex of-fenders released on parole in Pennsylvania. It is used to guide officials in hauling in former offenders for questioning on current crimes, Hill said.

Hill said immediately after the Brusco murder Harry J. Concelmi, Pittsburgh district parole officer, ordered field agents to check on Both records showed that an average of 13 sex offenders are released each month, Hill said, "and that such parolees, compared to be returned to prison for repetition of the same kind of crime." A board study in western Pennsylvania from January 1 to Octo-ber 1 this year showed Western State Penitentiary received 61 sex offenders of a total of 303 prisoners for all types of crimes, or 20 per cent During that period "about seven" sex criminals were sent to the Allegheny County Workohuse and six were sent to Morganza, state industrial school.

FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

candies, and cake which come from your own kitchen are ideal Christmas gifts that say "I thought of you." Wrapped in attractive paper, they have both eye and taste appeal.

Wrapping in waxed paper, cellophane or aluminum foil, you preserve the freshness of your cookies, candies, and cakes. Metal cans or sturdy candy boxes also are good. Coffee tins that have been decorated make attractive containers.

It is very important that the products be thoroughly cool before they are packaged. Wrap cakes closely with waxed paper or aluminum foil and seal with tape or ribbon. You'll find that it better to heat seal cellophane.

If you are mailing packages even for a short distance, be especially careful to pack closely fill spaces with crumpled paper and use corrugated paper between the layers. Popcorn also makes a good stuffing for the empty spaces between cookies. Be sure to mark the package "fra-gile." 4-H GIRLS URGED TO EXHIBIT AT FARM SHOW

Any girl in Lawrence county, who is a member of a 4-H clothing club, may enter an exhibit in the 4-H Club Clothing Class at the 1950 Pennsylvania Farm Show. Competition in clothing classes is keen. Club girls are urged to enter only their very best gar-ments. Each exhibit is to consist of one garment and will be judged on material, color, design, suita-bility, finish, and workmanship.

The exhibits must meet the requirements as set forth for 4-H lub activities and be selected through elimination in a 4-H Club Round-Up or by a competent judge. All garments should have been made in 1949 by the person exhibiting them. Girls may enter for competition only articles made n the club to which they belong For example, a girl who is a mem ber of the Let's Make a Dress club, should not exhibit the same articles being exhibited by a mem-ber of the "Start Stitching" club. All garments from Lawrence county to be entered in the 4-H clothing classes at the Farm Show should be sent to the Agricultura Extension Office not later than December 21. The address is 206

Overseas Wives Fete Children At Yule Party

Overseas Wives Club Holds Christ mas Party For Children Of Members

Santa Claus, a gaily decorated Christmas tree and all the trimmings that make children happy on Christmas Day were in evidence when members of the Overseas Wives club held a Christmas party for their children on Satur-

The party was held in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A. Husbands of the members were invited for the occasion. Holiday decorations were cleverly arranged throughout the room lending a Christmassy atmosphere. Santa Claus allas Walter Evanoski delighted the children, numbering 40, with his appearance. The children were given treats of candy and balloons.

A Christmas tea was served at tables appointed in the holiday motif. Serving were Mrs. Charles Rodgers, Mrs. Joseph Book, Mrs. Gerald O'Hara, Mrs. Harry Snyder Mrs. Joe Butia, Mrs. Walter Eva-noski Joseph Book and Robert Stratton took pictures of the children in charming poses.

The enjoyable event was arranged by Mrs. Gerald O'Hara and Mrs. Harry Snyder, co-chairladies. Responsible for decorations were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Book. Mrs. Charles Rodgers, Mrs. Chris Halackna and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald

HERE AND THERE

WITH the major hunting seasons behind, Game Commission officers, sportsmen, Boy Scouts and others have gone into action on winter game feeding programs. In remote, wooded sections that are alost inaccessible when snow is deep, game officers fill large feeders game needs man's assistance. For maximum effectiveness, feeders should be established before severe winter weather sets in. This done, usually after game season wildlife in the areas around will form the habit of coming to the feed prior to the months of January, February and March, which are the critical ones for them. Feed placed in the same localities after heavy snows carpet the ground may not be found by the wildlife for which

It is recommended that those interested in game feeding contact the District Game Protector in whose area the project will be carried on. He is in position to offer information that will insure maximum

Game men advise that yellow corn is the best winter feed. It has been found to be the grain that supplies turkeys, as well as most other game species, with the food elements most needed then. Some grains fail to provide body heat energy and certain other dietary es sentials to wildlife in winter. For example, quail will starve to death on a straight wheat diet, because wheat supplies insufficient nourish-

Wild turkeys, especially, need man's help in winter. If turkey wild creatures obtain food from these feeders.

It is an established fact that farmers, always do more than their share in this humane, worthwhile endeavor. It is recognized that wellconditioned birds and animals bring forth large families to provide sport for gunners. Many hunters, too, have fed game in past, but more are encouraged to participate in winter wildlife feeding, particularly

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 20.— (INS)—Ohio State's Buckeyes to-day resume two-a-day drills at Brookside Park in preparation for their Rose Bowl football game against California's Golden Bears

Coach Wes Fesler introduced his players to California's "liquid sunshine" yesterday morning. The Buckeyes, during what probably was the most persistent downpour in three days of rain, donned full battle regalia and splashed through a heavy workout. Rugged Workout

They returned for another session after lunch. The afternoon session, originally set aside for cameramen, was turned into a second rugged work period.

Asked whether Ohio State has improved since the tie game against University of Southern California, Fesler replied:
"I would say we have. Now we're dropping only two out of four passes while against USC we were dropping three out of four."

He feels his chief defensive problem will be that of stopping Bear quarterback Bob Celeri.

Oklahoma-St. John's Win Garden Battles

Previously Undefeated Washington State And City College Fall By Wayside

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 .- (INS)-The two-platoon system in basket-ball received a double jolting at Madison Square Garden last night with losses sustained by two pre-vious unbeaten quintets, C.C.N.Y., and Washington State.

The largest crash resounded in the second game when Oklahoma University rallied in the second half to hand City College of New York its first defeat in six games, with a 67.63 score.

with a 67-63 score.
Paul Merchant of the Sooners was the offensive star, scoring 20 points and passing for 7 other field goals. Center Ed Roman of City also got 20 in a losing cause for his two-platoon Beavers. In the opening clash of previous-ly unbeaten teams, St. John's University of Brooklyn won its ninth straight game by turning on the steam in the second half to trounce Washington State, 67-44.

Washington, which had won its first four games by using the two-platoon system, lost because of it last night. When State's starting five were in the ball game, St. I John's had an even fight. But when the second State Five came in, St. John's romped at random.

Mrs. F. W. Moorhead Awarded Prize For Outstanding Christmas Arrangement

Many beautiful and unique Christmas arrangements are on display by members of the Garden Council of Lawrence County in the Guild room of Trinity Episcopal church. The public has the opportunity of viewing these arrangements until 9 o'clock this evening.

The decorative appeal and appropriateness of the displays de-pict the time and effort which the ladies have put forth to insure the success of the show Mrs. F. S. Ward and Mrs Joshua, accredited judges from Youngstown, have awarded rib-bons to the winners. A complete
